More Workers Feeling Effects Of Steel Strike

Independent Industry Workers Are Being Thrown Into Idleness Now

STEEL FABRICATORS PROTEST STRONGLY

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 25.—The depressing effect of the nationwide strike of 700,000 steel workers today deepened.

More workers in dependent industries were thrown into idleness through shutdowns.

Sixty mines, most of them in the Pittsburgh-Northern West Virginia district, have closed, forcing 17,000 out of work.

The number of railroad workers in the Pittsburgh district laid off due to the steel strike rose to more than 5,000.

Merchants Affected

Small merchants in Pennsylvania steel mill towns, such as Aliquippa, Ambridge, Leetsdale, Rochester and New Brighton, reported a falling off in trade.

Strikers and their families were tightening their purse strings, buying only necessities. They were conserving for the proverbial "rainy day."

A howl, meanwhile, went up from the fabricators—the little fellows in the steel business employing 20 to 8,800. They have been demanding that the CIO United Steel Workers deal directly with individual firms on wages, not on an industry-wide basis.

Express Resentment

Fifty-six strikebound steel fabricators in the Pittsburgh district expressed resentment at CIO President Philip Murray's refusal to consider their individual situation.

Murray told reporters "nothing" is to be done to meet the requirements of small fabricators.

The Tri-State Industrial Association, one-half of whose membership is comprised of the 56 companies, issued a statement declaring that Murray's attitude is keeping their employes out on strike and threatening continued unemployment for many of them later. The statement added:

"This is because of their employers' inability to operate under the combination of a wage increase, an increase in the price of steel and frozen prices on their products."

Caught In Middle

With no price relief for them in sight, the small fabricators say they are "caught in the middle" of a strike-enforced wage demand and a government promise to raise the price of steel these companies must buy from basic steel companies.

Approximately 700 other companies throughout the country are laboring under the same difficulties.

Demands Arise To Save Some Warships From A-Bomb Tests

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25—(INS)—The House Naval Affairs committee interceded today in the Navy's plans for atomic bomb tests as demands arose in Congress that some of the historic battleships be spared from destruction.

Rep. Vinson (D) Ga., committee chairman, summoned Vice Adm. W. H. P. Blandy, head of the Navy's division on special weapons, to appear before his group Tuesday.

Blandy outlined the Navy's plans for testing the atomic bomb at sea before the Senate Atomic Energy committee. He revealed that 97 American, Japanese and German ships would be used, with the tests to take place in May and July in the Marshall Islands in the mid-Pacific.

Want Explanation

Vinson said his committee wanted an explanation of the Navy's program before the tests are carried out. He declared:

"We want the Navy to explain the whole thing to us first. We want to know the value of the ships and

Complete Halt Of Auto Plants Now Forecast

Ford And Chrysler Plants Are Affected By Lack Of Steel And Parts

DETROIT, Jan. 25.—(INS)—The automotive industry "Big Three" were headed today for a complete shutdown because of strikes, even as Ford and Chrysler endeavored to reach new wage contracts with the CIO United Automobile Workers.

The Ford Motor Co., announced that 40,000 workers will be sent home within a week and others of their 112,000 employes will soon be laid off unless the steel strike ends and parts suppliers continue operations.

Near Standstill

Chrysler corporation production was virtually at a standstill as 8,700 employes remained idle because of a parts shortage.

(General Motors, one of the "Big Three" companies, has been closed by a UAW strike since November 21.)

Another manufacturer, Packard Motor Co., sent home 1,000 workers yesterday, with 7,000 more to follow by February 1 unless parts can be obtained from strikebound suppliers.

Packard's troubles were attributed

Man And Wife Perish In Fire, Baby Is Saved

Walter Hallowell, 20, and Wife, 21, Perish In Flames; Baby Tossed Out Window

WILLOW GROVE, Pa., Jan. 25.—(INS)—A young couple was burned to death today in a Willow Grove apartment, a few minutes after the mother pushed their five-month-old daughter out a window to safety.

The dead were Walter Hallowell, 20, and his wife, Aroth, 21. Mrs. Hallowell wrapped the baby, Sharon Lee, in blankets and shoved her out the window as the flames lapped up the second floor stairway and cut off all other escape.

Baby Unhurt

The baby apparently was unhurt in its 12-foot fall. Firemen immediately raised a ladder to the window, but found Hallowell dead in bed and his wife three feet from the window.

Firemen believe Mrs. Hallowell awakened to find the place ablaze and was unable to wake her husband because he probably was already unconscious. She then tumbled the baby from the window and died in another attempt to arouse her husband.

Hallowell's mother, Mrs. Jeanette Hallowell, 41, and his three brothers, all of whom live on the first floor, made their way to safety.

Investigators believe the fire was started by an overheated stove in the half-story apartment.

Jap Prison Camp Commandant Is Sentenced To Hang

TOKYO, Jan. 25.—(INS)—An American military court today convicted Captain Kaichi Hirate, commandant of a Japanese prison camp on Hokkaido, of the death of at least four Dutch and Brtiish prisoners and sentenced him to hang.

Testimony at Hirate's trial told how guards at the Muroran camp savagely beat a Dutch captain who refused to shave off his mustache and split open the head of a Royal Air Force sergeant with a shovel.

Another guard was charged with having beaten more than fifty Allied prisoners during one night.

The guards were identified as perpetrators of atrocities for which Hirate was held responsible.

Sentence Japs For Killing U. S. Soldier

One Of Japanese To Be Hanged; Other Two Given 30 Years At Hard Labor

YOKOHAMA, Jan. 25.—(INS)—A military court today sentenced one Japanese to hang and two others to 30 years at hard labor for knifing to death an American soldier.

Pfc. Robert Young of (331 Gertrude St.) Syracuse, N. Y., was stabbed in the stomach when he caught the three Japs stealing from an army warehouse at Sapporo, Hokkaido, last Dec. 19.

Katsunori Tamauna was sentenced to hang. Tatsugo Shimizu and Sadatsugo Saito were sentenced to 30 years.

Will Repatriate 25,000 Japanese Daily From China

SHANGHAI, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Army authorities predicted today that by April 15, 25,000 Japanese will be repatriated from China daily.

Eighty five American owned LST's and 100 Liberty ships have been added to the repatriation fleet and 10,000 Japs are now being sent home each day. Additional shipping will be allocated to the task in early February and will be operated by Japanese crews.

To date, 270,491 Japs have been repatriated from China and Formosa 16,782 of them from Formosa alone.

Ninety American LST's and 65 captured Japanese ships are now engaged in repatriation with Japanese officers and men making up the crews and the Imperial government paying all costs.

Woman Scientist Arrives In U. S.

Dr. Lisa Meitner, Jewish Developer Of Atom Bomb, Arrives In New York

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—(INS)—Dr. Lisa Meitner, noted woman scientist whose mathematical formulas paved the way to development of the atom bomb, arrived in New York today by plane.

She was met at LaGuardia airport by two sisters, Dr. Frieda Frischauer, of New York City, and Mrs. Rudolph Allers, wife of a professor at Catholic university, Washington, D. C.

Slight, 65, and Jewish, the Vienna-born savant will join the faculty of Catholic university. She was forced out of a professorship in Berlin by Nazi persecution in 1938.

Dr Meitner is credited with giving practical emphasis to one of Dr. Albert Einstein's mathematical formulas, which led eventually to the development of the atom bomb.

She refused to be interviewed on her arrival, saying that she was "really too tired to talk."

U. N. O. Inspection Group Completes U. S. Tour Of Sites

Six Possible Sites For Permanent Home Of U. N. O. Will Be Recommended

NEW ENGLAND SEEMS FAVORED

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—(INS)—The UNO inspection group now has viewed all the sites from which it will choose six to recommend to London.

Today it looks as if the General Assembly will pick its new world capital from one of the following:

Hyde Park, N. Y.
Sudbury, Mass.
Westchester County, N. Y., (Yorktown-Somers).
North Stamford, Conn.
Massachusetts North Shore.
Chopmist Hill, R. I. (Glocester-Poster).

If a fight develops in the committee, one or more of the six leading contenders may drop out, in which case the following have a chance:

Ridgefield, Conn.
Princeton, N. J.
Blue Hills, Mass.

Princeton Seemed Favored

A week ago, Princeton, N. J., appeared to be strongly in the running because of its large area and relative proximity to Philadelphia and Washington.

But the Princeton committee has not "followed through" with the same sort of zeal found in New England. The delegates were told Princeton is hot in summer.

The tip-off is that the committee has stopped talking about Princeton and has shown no interest in paying a return visit.

On the other hand, it plans to make its third visit Sunday to Westchester County and Stamford, Conn.

Hyde Park heads the list because it is the only site which the committee so far has definitely announced it will recommend.

The committee probably will report six sites alphabetically without stating its preferences among them, according to Dr. Stoyan Gavrilovic, chairman.

Scientists Are Enthused Over Moon Contact

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Two University of Chicago scientists were enthusiastic today over the army's successful radar contact with the moon, but they differed on the possibility of inter-planetary communication as a result of the achievement.

Dr. Walter Barky, dean of the physics department and professor of applied mathematics said:

"This is the one thing I had hoped to see in my lifetime. It is now reasonably feasible that we mortals now can begin to consider travel between the planets.

"To send a radar wave more than a quarter of a million miles away and get it back is a real scientific achievement. We may be able to make immense progress through this newly-opened door."

Believe Mars Inhabited

Dr. Barky said he often had hoped for a rocket trip from the earth to circle the moon and bring back photographs of the side which no mortal ever has seen. He added:

"But I'd rather go to Mars. The

Radar Contact With Moon Opens New Science Vistas

By WILLIAM E. ZIMMERMAN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Immeasurable vistats of science appeared open today through the disclosure that the Army Signal Corps has made radar contact with the moon.

Maj. Gen. Harry C. Ingles, chief signal officer, announced that the first contact with the moon was made at the Evans Signal Laboratory, Belmar, N. J., January 10, and has been successfully repeated several times.

Ingles said the experiment promises "valuable peacetime as well as wartime application" which include the possibility of radar exploration of the moon and planets and control of long-distance rocket weapons and space ships circling the earth in the stratosphere. The German V-2 rockets were believed to have reached an altitude of 60 miles.

The mean distince to the moon is estimated at 238,857 miles. Radar pulses traveling with the speed of

Lewis Returns To Federation

(BULLETIN)

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 25.—(INS)—John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers returned to the American Federation of Labor today after an absence of nearly 10 years.

President William Green of the AFL said that the executive council unanimously accepted the UMW application for reaffiliation.

Lewis, at the same time, was unanimously elected to sit in the council as 13th vice-president of the AFL. His return was based upon an application dated January 12.

Officers Delay Return Of Herge To New Castle

Prisoner In Ellwood Murder Case May Not Arrive Until Saturday

Early this afternoon Ervin Herge of Ellwood City, confessed slayer of Jean Fatur, 20, who lived on Wurtemburg Heights outside of Ellwood City had not been returned from Toledo, O., to the Lawrence County jail.

Yesterday it was announced from Toledo, O., that Herge was to be brought back by District Attorney Leroy K. Donaldson and County Detective Charles Ross late Thursday. Today it was said that the party would not leave Toledo until this afternoon which would make the arrival here Saturday morning.

Herge confessed the officials say, to killing Miss Fatur on October 17 in an automobile near Ellwood City. He stuffed the body in the trunk of his car and then drove around for ten days before dumping her body in the Maumee River near Napoleon, O., it is related by police.

Gouin Seeks To Form Cabinet

Sweeping Financial Measures Are Also Reported To Be Coming Soon

PARIS, Jan. 25.—(INS)—President Felix Gouin continued consultations toward the formation of a cabinet, while all France awaited forthcoming sweeping financial measures.

It was believed that Pierre Mandes-France, who it is hoped will accept the financial ministry, plans to call in all currency and then reissue it after stamping it anew.

Such a plan is aimed at paralyzing the black market and deflating prices without lowering salaries.

Mandes-France is meeting with President Gouin again today.

Meanwhile, it was learned that the Socialists and Communists modified their demands for total nationalization of industry to win the support of the movement Republican Populaire.

BULLET KILLS GIRL

ELIM, Pa., Jan. 25.—(INS)—Cambria county police today launched an investigation into the death of Donna Naugle, 9, who was accidentally shot and killed last night in her home in Elim.

Donna, members of the family reported, had gone into her brother's room and as she opened the door the gun fell, discharging the bullet. It struck her in the eye.

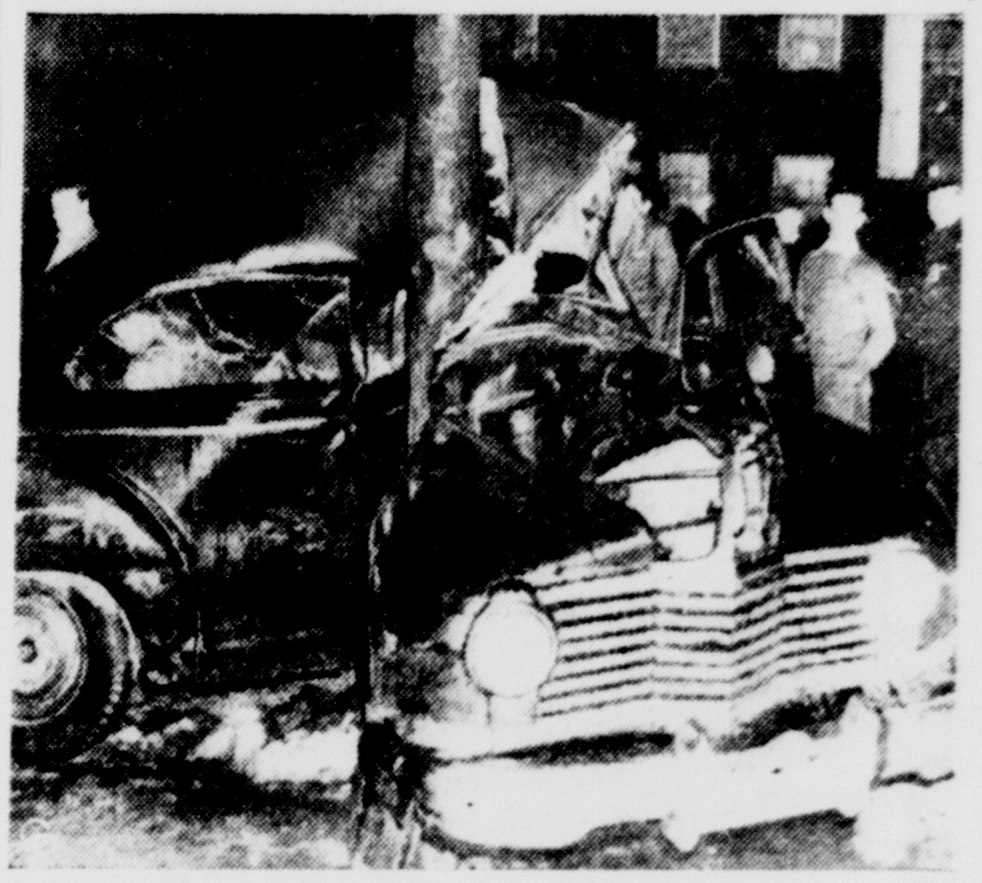
Journey To Moon Not Improbable

EVANSTON, Ill., Jan. 25.—(INS)—Oliver J. Lee, Northwestern university's professor of astronomy and director of its Dearborn observatory, said today a trip to the moon in a rocket-propelled space ship "is not improbable" in the light of the army's radar contact with the celestial body.

Professor Lee, discussing the army's radar waves of 238,857 miles to the moon, said a trip there in a rocket plane was "quite feasible" in this age of atomic power.

The Northwestern university professor pointed out the Germans' V-2 Rocket which reached an estimated height of 60 miles. Based on the V-2's potentialities, he said, a rocket for a 5,000-mile-an-hour trip to the moon in approximately 50 hours is "not improbable".

ANOTHER AUTO IS DONE



When this automobile, driven by Lt. Alvin K. Wilson of Santa Anna, Calif., skidded in Hempstead, N. Y., it wrapped itself in complete right-angle effect around an electric light pole. The driver was hurled into the back seat, where he was trapped in the wreckage. After being extricated, the injured officer was rushed to a hospital.

Many Problems Facing Byrnes

Secretary Of State Returns From U. N. O. Sessions To Overloaded Desk

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Secretary of State James F. Byrnes returns to an overloaded desk today from the historic first meeting of the United Nations assembly in London.

Byrnes' return aroused interest for two reasons:

First, it may indicate that he feels that the major purposes of the first meeting of the new world peace-keeping organization has been concluded and his presence is no longer needed.

Second, it may also imply that the United States does not want to participate too strenuously in the troublesome problems of Iran, Greece and Indonasia, which were unexpectedly injected into the first assembly meeting.

Planned Short Stay

Before Byrnes left for London he made clear that he intended to stay only long enough for a decision on the Moscow agreement for the control of atomic energy. A resolution proving the Moscow agreement was passed without a dissenting vote.

The agreement provides that the United Nations council will control the exchange of information on atomic energy and study means to prevent its use along with other weapons of "mass production", by aggressor states.

Byrnes likewise was known before his departure for London to feel that the first meeting should be devoted only to problems of organization including the setting up of permanent bodies under the United Nations charter.

Observers believed he did not wish to go into such controversial matters as Iran, Greece and Indonesia until UNO was a well-established body.

New York Police Hunting Killer

Two Lives Taken By Maniac Killer, Another Wounded; Have Meager Description

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Police today intensified their hunt for a maniacal killer who already has taken two lives, nearly took a third and may strike again at any time.

The entire police force was placed on the alert when ballistics experts demonstrated that Irving G. Weiss, a liquor store proprietor, and Lorillard S. Tillotson, another store owner, were killed and Jack Goldner a fur shop proprietor, was wounded by bullets which all came from the same revolver.

All Victims Robbed

All the victims were robbed, but police believed robbery was only a secondary motive.

The only clues police have to the killer's identity is a meager description given by Goldner from his hospital cot and the fact that he strikes between 11 a. m. and 1 p. m.

Truman Planning Trip To Florida

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 25.—(INS)—The Miami Herald said today that President Truman "probably will come to Miami shortly before the middle of February."

The newspaper said Mr. Truman was expected to confer with Winston Churchill, who is vacationing at Miami Beach, although the president's trip would be "in the nature of a vacation."

May Be Able To Transmit Voice To Moon

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Lieut. Col. J. H. DeWitt, 39-year-old officer who supervised the army's sensational radar contact with the moon, predicted today that it may soon be possible to transmit the human voice to the earth's satellite.

He commented humorously: "We should then be able to say 'hello' and hear the moon say 'hello' back. I hope the moon doesn't answer 'goodbye!'"

DeWitt, in New York to attend the annual dinner of the Institute of Radio Engineers, admitted that the successful experiment at the Evans Signal Laboratories at Belmar, N. J., climaxed his own earlier but futile attempts to transmit a signal to the moon.

Tried in 1940

He said he tried unsuccessfully in 1940 to perform the feat as a hobby. He was formerly a broadcast engineer in Nashville and has been an amateur radio operator of long standing.

DeWitt said the army started work on its successful experiment soon after V-J day. Finally, on January 10, a few minutes before the moon rose a radar impulse was beamed toward her on a frequency of 111.6 megacycles—and ten minutes later the first flicker on the oscillograph announced that radar had reached the moon.

The radar impulse traveled the estimate round-trip distance of 477,714 miles in 2.4 seconds.

Violinist Dies For Heroism In Saving Girl

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Joseph De Santis, 50, a New York violinist with a USO troupe, sacrificed his life today in saving a girl companion from possible death in a traffic accident.

De Santis and Miss Dorothy Arden, also a member of the USO troupe, were crossing at a downtown San Francisco street intersection when an automobile bore down upon them.

De Santis grabbed Miss Arden and threw her to safety but was himself knocked down by the machine and died a short time later of a fractured skull. Miss Arden was only slightly injured.

The USO troupe, offering "The Chocolate Soldier," was scheduled to leave by plane from Hamilton Field today for a tour of Pacific bases.

Striking Telegraph Workers Protest

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Leaders of 7,000 striking telegraph workers protested today to President Truman against what they termed the Federal Communication Commission's failure to act in the three-weeks-old Western Union strike in New York.

In letters to the White House and Senators Robert F. Wagner and James M. Mead, officials of the striking CIO American Communications Association charged the FCC with failure to fulfill its responsibility to see restoration of full telegraphic service to and from New York.

More than 3,000 ACA members at a rally last night meanwhile reaffirmed their determination to continue the strike until their demands are met.

Company officials said the volume of business handled by New York offices yesterday reached 25 per cent—high mark since the strike began—due to some of the men returning to their posts.

Soviet Russia Iran Dispute Will Be Aired

Security Council Of U. N. O. Agrees Upon Discussion Of Political Issues

OTHER ISSUES ALSO TO BE DISCUSSED

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Jan. 25.—The security council of the United Nations organization grabbed a raging bull by the horns today and agreed upon full discussion of current controversial political issues at its next meeting.

A motion to this effect was presented by United States delegate Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., and adopted after Soviet Russia had presented a vigorous, indignant reply to charges by Iran that Red troops are responsible for the revolt in Azerbaijan province.

"Tired" Of Allegations

On the heels of this, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, announcing himself "tired" of Russian allegations that Britain is interfering in the affairs of smaller nations, demanded immediate, open discussion of Greece and Indonesia. He said:

"Peace depends upon bringing facts out before the world.

"Nations should come to this table and state their case in the open."

In this tense atmosphere and amidst sharp exchanges, Stettinius

Iranian Charges Denied By Soviet

Formal Protest Is Lodged With U. N. O. By Soviet Delegation At Parley

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Jan. 25.—The Soviet UNO delegation formally protested to the security council today that Iranian charges concerning the situation in northern Iran were "in contradiction to reality and lacked foundation."

The Soviet note was delivered to Dr. Roberto McEachen, Uruguayan chairman of the security council.

The council is scheduled to consider the Iranian request for UNO intervention into its troubles with Russia over the Soviet's alleged intervention into Iranian internal affairs.

Soviet Protest

The Soviet note said:

"The delegation of the Soviet Union, acting on behalf of the Soviet government concerning the appeal of the Iranian delegation to the security council considers it necessary to make the following statement.

"The allegation of the Iranian delegation of interference by the armed forces of the Soviet Union in the internal affairs of Iran is in contradiction to reality and lacks foundation.

"In this case the Iranian delegation repeats a statement made by the Iranian government to the Soviet government in November, 1945.

"This statement was categorically refuted by the Soviet embassy in Iran on Nov 26."

Andrei Vishinsky, leader of the Russian delegation, declared that the Russians categorically opposed UNO consideration of the Iranian appeal because it lacked sufficient grounds.

This issue, plus the scheduled Russian demand for an investigation into British activities in Greece and Indonesia, is the most acute to confront UNO at the moment.

General Homma Plans Defense

Will Present War Crimes Defense When Trial Resumes On Monday

By PAT ROBINSON
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

MANILA, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Lieut. Gen. Masaharu Homma outlined today main points in the defense he will offer in the slim hope of evading being hanged as a war criminal.

Homma's defense opens Monday when his war crimes trial, in recess for the past five days, reconvenes.

In answer to charges that he perpetrated the Bataan death march, Homma claims that imperial headquarters at Tokyo sent a colonel to the Philippines who ordered the alleged atrocities over Homma's protests.

Will Claim Ignorance

The former Jap commander in the Philippines said he will claim ignorance regarding tortures and executions carried out at the infamous Cabanatuan and Camp O'Donnell prisons.

With respect to bombing of Manila after it had been declared an open city, Homma's excuse will be that buildings hit were in the port area, which he claims were a legitimate target.

He explained the Fort Santiago murders and tortures as "Tojo's personal baby," and said they were perpetrated by "headquarters Kempetai." (secret police.)

Homma said the Kempetai in the Philippines were directly under Tojo, who brooked no interference from the army with his Gestapo.

RADAR CONTACT WITH MOON OPENS NEW SCIENCE VISTAS

light—186,000 miles per second—were sent out at five second intervals. They were reflected from the moon to the earth in about two and a half seconds.

Established Beyond Doubt

Ingles said that announcement of the experiment was withheld until it was established "beyond doubt" that contact had actually been made.

Success of the experiment proved for the first time that radio waves could be projected beyond the earth's atmosphere. Also, it had never been possible to develop sufficient energy in very high frequency radio to attain the range of the moon.

Ingles said the primary significance of the experiments is that they establish for the first time that very high frequency radio waves sent out from the earth can penetrate the electrically charged atmosphere which encircles the earth and stratosphere. He added:

"Another valuable application may be the provision of new astronomical information. Not only may it be possible to construct detailed topographical maps of distance planets with the aid of radar data, but scientists may be able to determine the composition and atmospheric characteristics of other celestial bodies by this means.

"A less likely apprication of the new technique will be the possibility for radio control from the earth's surface of 'space ships' venturing thousands of miles from the earth, and the radio reporting of astronomical date electronically computed aboard such vessels."

The fabricators renewed their demand for individual bargaining with the union, which would take into account the situation of the individual company as to wages, material, prices and competitive market condtions.

The fabricators insisted they should not be blanketed with "steel" in their ability or inability to pay wage increases. Their association said:

Position Critical

"Price relief already is indicated for basic steel, but price relief for basic steel just makes the position of the small fabricator worse."

Some of the fabricators said that since their demand for bargaining separately from "big steel," union representatives have called on them with contracts which bind them to pay an 18½ cents wage increase, or whatever other amount may later be agreed upon by U. S. Steel. They put it this way:

"There is no negotiation about it, let alone collective bargaining. We are told 18½ cents, or else."

16th Infantry Band Will Participate In Indiantown Program

Band Under Direction Of Warrant Officer Replogle Has Several Vacancies

New Castle's 16th Infantry Regimental band, under the direction of Joe F. Replogle, warrant officer, will participate in the 15-day field training program which is to be held by the Pennsylvania Guard at Indiantown Gap from June 22 to July 6, 1946.

Since the organization of the present guard in 1941, the band has been to two annual encampments. The members of the unit have served the community and the state in a purely voluntary capacity, without compensation except for periods of training at Indiantown Gap. The military traditions of the community have been upheld in a creditable manner that has merited high praise from both battalion and regimental commanders.

Vacancies in Band

Warrant Officer Replogle has announced that there are several vacancies remaining in the band. It is desired to bring the organization to full strength in the next few weeks so that new men may receive several months of recruit training before camp and be ready to take their places in the ranks.

During the 15 days at the camp 5,000 officers and men of the guard will participate in intensive training to perfect themselves in the tactics and techniques necessary to maintain the organization as the most efficient state guard among the 48 states.

Since this is the last encampment of this volunteer force, which replaced the famous 28th Division, it is expected that the previous records in field training will be excelled.

Enrollment In Evening Classes Closes Next Week

Close To Sixty Persons Attend First Two Classes At High School This Week

Approximately 60 persons have been attending the newly-organized evening classes at Senior High School on Tuesday and Thursday evenings of this week, Superintendent of Schools Frank L. Burton said today.

The classes in typing, office practice, and business records meet every Tuesday and Thursday evening from 7:30 until 9:30, whereas the clothing construction class meets only on Thursday evening. Enrollment in these classes will be closed after Thursday, January 31, Mr. Burton said. Those completing the course will receive high school credit for the work.

SCIENTISTS ARE ENTHUSED OVER MOON CONTACT

moon is without life. But Mars is believed to be inhabited and the prospect of finding something of more value to science is much more promising."

Dr. W. Albert Hiltner, professor of astronomy at the University's Yerkes observatory at Williams Bay, Wis., leaned toward conservatism. He hesitated to predict the degree to which radar or rockets could be applied to inter-planetary travel.

Hiltner was confident a rocket could penetrate beyond the earth's protecting atmosphere and stratosphere into the electrically-charged inonosphere, and then into space.

Dr. Hiltner cited the Nazi's V-2 rockets as indicating such possibility.

whether the vessels, especially the battleships and aircraft carriers, have been officially determined to be obsolete.

Vinson said the committee might decide after the hearing to ask the Navy to strike some of the ships from its list, especially if states request that such action be taken.

Would Save Warships

The chairman declared:

"I would favor removing from the list, if requests were made from the states concerned, the battleships New York, Texas and Pennsylvania, to be kept as museums by those states and at their expense.

"There are six surplus U. S. battleships and it's not necessary to use all of them. The Arkansas and the Nevada could be used for the tests because their states have no ports where they could be berthed."

Vinson said his committee would give the matter serious consideration should requests be received from the governors of New York, Texas and Pennsylvania for possession of the three ships bearing the names of their states.

Baptist Men's Class Has Chicken Dinner

Twenty-Three Servicemen Welcomed By Bible Class At Annual Occasion

At the First Baptist church about 100 members of the Men's Bible class gathered on Thursday evening in the dining room and partook of a splendid chicken dinner and all the trimmings.

The invocation was given by the pastor, Rev. O. W. Hurst, who also led those assembled in a short song service, with Miss Martha Davis as accompanist.

Joe Bowman, chairman; Dan Reebel and Francis Weir were in charge of arrangements. There were 23 servicemen present, some of them honorably discharged, a few still in the service.

Mr. Bowman turned over the evening program to Clare Lutz, who made a short address and introduced C. Leroy Martin, who brought greetings and welcome to the servicemen to our city, church and Men's class, back from service to our country.

Merle Hildebrand responded on behalf of the servicemen, giving some incidents and experiences while in the service in a number of places in the Pacific. Manny Weller also responded in a humorous trend as to his experience in the army, which brought successive rounds of laughter.

Ralph Maddox and Francis Weir gave a number of instrumental selections.

At this point, Paul W. Fombelle, class president, took charge and thanked all who had helped to make this occasion such a success; a vote of thanks was given to the ladies, members of section 6 of the Women's Missionary society, who had prepared and served such a splendid meal.

Alex Gardner, secretary, gave the annual class report, and Ralph Snyder, treasurer, also gave his report.

Prayer for the class sick and benediction was given by the pastor.

Two New Stars For Flag?

It has been many years since the people of the United States seriously considered adding any more stars to the forty-eight which now dot the blue field on Old Glory. Arizona and New Mexico, the last to be admitted to statehood, entered the union a few weeks apart in the early months of 1912. Now President Truman asks Congress to take action toward making Hawaii and Alaska the forty-ninth and fiftieth states.

Since Hawaii ceded its sovereignty to the United States in 1898 nearly half a century has gone by. The links between the island and mainland have grown stronger year by year and they have been intensified during the war. With more than 400,000 inhabitants and an area of 6,454 square miles it is both larger and more populous than a number of states. A barrier to statehood in the past has been the question of whether its mixed population, including a large percentage with Japanese blood, would prove loyal in a crisis.

This question has been answered during the war which has just ended. There were no uprisings and not a single instance of sabotage on the part of the civilian population. A congressional committee which has just made a tour of the islands is now returning with a report that Hawaii is entirely ready to take on the responsibilities of statehood. But the fact remains that Hawaii is an island, thousands of miles from the mainland. It is doubtful whether the American people will ever favor the precedent-setting action of creating a state out of an island.

Alaska, nearly 100 times as large as Hawaii and with fewer than 100,000 persons scattered over its broad expanse, has not indicated a strong desire to change its status as a territory. Obviously she is not ready for statehood.

Means Of Joy

What man has been waiting for for a long time now is within his [illegible] how to be happy and gay—cheap and without half trying.

The solution is provided by the Men's Fashion Guild of New York, [illegible] learned from medical authorities of the U. S. Public Health [illegible] "yellow is a happy color, made gayer by gray."

[illegible] discovery has prompted the guild to decree that this spring [illegible] male shall bust out all over in a flurry of yellow and gray [illegible]

[illegible] guild says there'll be such items as yellow undershirts with [illegible] gray striped shorts, yellow suede "driving coats," gray nylon [illegible] yellow gabardine hats with gray bands, and—the clincher—yellow flannel pants or slacks as some call them. A spokesman for the guild says the yellow pants are gorgeous and he anticipated no trouble getting men into them and out in them.

Well, that's it. All that is needed is enough material and enough yellow and gray pigmentation and the men of America are on the stairway to a paradise of happiness and gaiety.

Perhaps, though, on second thought just a little more may be needed. It will take an act of Congress to get some men into the prescribed habiliments of hilarity.

Government Newscasts

During the war the United States government built a farflung information service to carry news and the official American, or New Deal, viewpoint to people overseas. Although it was easy to find fault with the views and information broadcast abroad, the idea behind the program was more or less sound.

Psychological warfare played an important role in this war and it would have been foolish for the government not to employ, however clumsily, every weapon it could command.

But it is an entirely different matter for the government to carry on similar activities in peacetime. Now that the war is over the regular news agencies are ready and able to supply countries abroad with a full flow of information.

There is no necessity for the government to continue its special broadcasts and news services and there is the ever-present danger that they would take on the color of propaganda.

Many editors share the misgivings of the Associated Press, which has decided to stop supplying the State department with news for free dissemination abroad, about a program of daily, government-sponsored newscasts. Such broadcasts would inevitably be regarded as official propaganda and they would also inevitably reflect upon the objectivity of the news service from which the newscasts were prepared.

Henry Wallace has asked the president for extra assistants to get business going . . . but he got the wrong president. It's Murray he wants . . . not Truman.

Mr. Truman hasn't stopped a business yet . . . except haberdashery and that was a long time ago.

Mr. Wallace said that with three more $10,000 assistants he could get things rolling. That's more than several 100,000 men can do at the moment . . . and they had things rolling.

Beadsley Ruml has announced a world peace plan. If Congress does to "Peace-as-you-go" what it did to "Pay-as-you-go" we had better keep our muskets oiled.

But "Peace-as-you-go" makes a tastier slogan than "Peace-at-any-price."

After Congress got through with Ruml's tax plan we were "forgiven" our taxes for one year provided they were paid promptly.

The same retroactive mopery applied to "Peace-as-you-go" would set us back to fighting the British for Long island.

Everybody's fighting anyway. The American Kennel club has suspended a dog owner for talking back to a judge. No one would believe that his bark was worse than his bite.

WASHINGTON CALLING

Cabinet Post Being Held Up By Filibuster

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 — For more than a month, the post of assistant secretary of war for air has been vacant. Now W. Stuart Symington has been nominated by the President to fill the vacancy, but confirmation of his appointment is being held up by the Senate filibuster on the FEPC bill.

While the delay in filling the post might seem, at first glance, to be a minor matter, it can have serious consequences. Plans are now being worked out for America's future peacetime military establishment. These are for submission to Congress. Without an assistant secretary to speak for their interests, the air forces have no voice.

As a result, preparedness on the air side suffers. While they do not want to exaggerate their fears, the military men who built up our air forces to a point of such formidable strength do not conceal their deep concern.

Already, under the impact of demobilization, the once proud AAF has deteriorated to such a point that the framework of the organization threatens to come unstuck. As though they were not already acutely aware of it, the top command of the air forces are constantly being reminded by humiliating little incidents of the way in which the personnel problem has begun to affect the operational end.

Shortly before he left the AAF to go into private business, Lieut. Gen. James H. Doolittle was flying to Washington from Florida. Twice in the course of that short flight, he had to stop because of engine trouble.

Not long ago the inspector general for the air forces, Maj. Gen. Junius W. Jones, left Washington to fly to New York. His plane was forced down by engine trouble at Aberdeen, Md. The engine that had been missing offered unexpected difficulties and the general returned to Washington by train.

The problem of the air forces is to get trained men and then to hold them. A skilled service force is necessary to keep even a relatively small number of planes in flyable condition. Many weeks ago, air force commanders were fearful that the accident rate would mount rapidly in view of the speed of demobilization—and that is now taking place.

The AAF command is proud of having kept consistently a little ahead of the demobilization schedule. But at the same time, this has made the problem of maintenance of a going air force all the tougher.

General H. H. Arnold is the last of the war's "Big Three" to remain in harness. Admiral Ernest J. King retired six weeks ago. On the day General George C. Marshall was due to retire, he agreed to go to China as ambassador. One reason Arnold has stayed on beyond the date on which he had hoped to get out is his concern for the air forces he led during the war.

Through the war years, the air forces had the backing of an assistant secretary of war for air who was one of the ablest executives to come to Washington in the war crisis. That was Robert A. Lovett, who resigned on December 15 to go back to his banking business in New York.

The hope in the air forces was that a new assistant secretary for air would be named before Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson left on his round-the-world trip. That was not done. And now that Symington has been nominated, his confirmation is held up.

One of President Truman's standing complaints is that he cannot get men of high caliber to take important jobs. This raises an interesting question on unification of the armed services. Arguing against the merger, the Navy says it will be impossible to find good men to accept the important assistant secretaryships in the revised setup.

You can get a man to take a cabinet post because of the prestige that attaches to it, so this argument runs. But he will not come to Washington, with all the sacrifice that means, for an assistantship. Only in wartime will a man of Lovett's capacity agree to serve in a secondary position.

This, it seems to me, is to argue that patriotism operates only in time of crisis. In the light of the new responsibilities the government must accept, it is a dubious proposition.

HARD OF HEARING

Children who have difficulty with their hearing have a hard time of it.

Sometimes they are considered dumb or inattentive or impolite.

Sometimes they have a hard time at school. They miss part of what the teacher tells them. They do not hear what the other pupils say.

In many schools an effort is made to detect deafness. Special attention is given to those who do not hear very well.

Hearing aids are getting better all the time. They are not very well adopted to young children yet.

Children should be protected from colds as much as possible. Perhaps more ear trouble is caused by colds than anything else. A cold is a serious disease for a child and should not be neglected.

THE SEED OF SUCCESS

A philosopher, who practiced his philosophies and proved them, was the great railroad builder, James J. Hill. Once, when he was asked the how and why of his tangible success, he replied:

"If you want to know whether you are destined to be a success or failure in life, you can easily find out. The test is simple and it is infallible: Are you able to save money? If not, drop out. You will lose. You may think not, but you will lose as sure as you live. The seed of success is not in you."

The good-natured young Negro recruit was the victim of so many practical jokes that he soon doubted all men and their motives.

One night while he was on guard, the figure of one of the officers loomed up in the darkness, and he challenged: "Who goes there?"

"Major Moses," replied the officer.

The recruit immediately scented a joke, so he said quite cheerfully: "Glad to meet yuh, Moses. Advance and give the Ten Commandments!"

OFFERING CONDOLENCES

"When must one make a call of condolence, and when is it permissible to write letters instead of making calls? I am somewhat confused about this phase of etiquette."

Answer: When a death occurs in the family of a close friend, it is a natural inclination for us to call and express our sympathy. This call is made sometime between the demise and the funeral, to which we usually send flowers if the closeness of the friendship warrants.

Should the bereaved person be too indisposed to see visitors, leave a visiting card "with sympathy" or "I am so sorry to hear of your great loss" written on it. In making such calls, all unnecessary and depressing references to the deceased should be avoided. Unless the bereaved herself dwells upon the subject, try to turn the conversation to other channels.

If the bereaved is "not at home" when you pay your call of condolence, call again within two or three weeks after the funeral. Letters of condolence are written when the friendship is not close enough to warrant a call and when distance prohibits such a call.

Question: I am a member of a women's club, from which I must resign because I am moving out of town. To whom should I send my letter of resignation? Please also give me some ideas as to what I should say.

Answer: First of all, pay your dues and all outstanding debts before sending your letter of resignation, addressed to the secretary of the club. Your letter might be along the following lines: "Regretfully, I find it necessary to resign from the Blank Club because of the necessity of my moving out of town. At the next meeting, will you please present my resignation to the Board of Directors."

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

So you think that people have changed for the worse?

So you feel that everybody is selfish nowadays and that kindness and friendliness have disappeared from the earth?

Well read this.

It is a note that came to me this morning from a man in North Carolina. He is apparently an elderly man and it is written in pencil. The handwriting shows that the fellow doesn't do a lot of writing. Here it is:

"I have just read your column in which you wrote about a young woman who wanted to be a teacher but could not finish her education because of financial troubles.

"Maybe I could help her out with a small loan and she could realize her ambition. I would not charge her any interest and she could pay me back when she begins to earn money as a teacher.

"If you will get in touch with her, maybe you and I can make her dream come true and create a useful citizen.

"I expect about $500 would be my limit. I am always glad to lend a needed."

Sometimes I wonder whether we writers who try to help you get a little more out of life because of what we write, are really accomplishing anything.

We get letters of praise, yes, but we also get a lot of insulting and sarastic letters.

And then a note such as this comes along—and I feel that if I never achieved anything else in life other than the discovery of such a man as this one, my existence on earth would be justified.

Here is a total stranger, in a village, not a rich man, I am sure, willing to lend $500 to a person, sight unseen, just on my word, for the one purpose of "creating a useful citizen."

When I see that sort of thing I am glad that I am an optimist and I know I am right when I refuse to share the fears and doubts of so many of our modern writers and orators who see nothing but evil ahead of us.

I insist that human beings are fundamentally good, and that, with the proper leadership and counsel, this world, and particularly this country, can be a glorious place in which to live.

Unfortunately, cynicism and pessimism have become earmarks of wisdom and too many people are afraid to preach the old-fashioned gospel of "all's right with the world."

We are going through trying times, there's no doubt about that, but deep down in our hearts all of us long for a revival of the fundamentals that have made this nation great.

As far as I am concerned, my friend down in North Carolina is not just an isolated case.

I am sure that there are thousands of others who would be just as glad to be useful citizens by helping others to become useful citizens.

What we are going through right now is just a mass of clouds.

Beyond those clouds is the blue sky.

That is America.

Just Folks

LETTER VII

Beloved, your sides would be aching
From laughter, I'm sure, as of old,
If the pitiful blunders I'm making
Today you could hear or behold.
Now, dressed in my "tux" or "claw hammer",
I'm lost in a forest of names.
Bewildered, I stutter and stammer
Without you to tell me their names.

Beloved, so well you could read me,
You knew at a glance my despair.
You'd whisper: "I'm certain you need me.
Remember, that's So and So there!
The one that you call 'triple chinner'
A fortune in motor stocks owns.
She was last night your partner at dinner.
Her name (Must I tell you?) is Jones."

Time was when you whispered: "I wonder
Whatever you'd do without me."
I knew. I do nothing but blunder.
Ashamed, as you knew I would be.
I'm sure you would chuckle to find me
In pits where I never should fall.
Because you're not here to remind me
Of names which I ought to recall.

Railroad And Coal Industries Are Restless
Early Action Unlikely On Labor Legislation
Three-Hundred-Mile An Hour Transports Seen

By HELEN ESSARY
(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25—First big developments on the already turbulent labor front will come in the railroad and coal industries.

The rail brotherhoods for some time have been pressing their wage demands in Chicago at conferences with the carriers. They are seeking a $2.50-a-day pay boost plus improved working conditions.

However, the Chicago parleys have gotten nowhere and the next step probably will be to turn the dispute over to the Railway Mediation board. If the board fails, a strike notice will be filed by the unions.

John L. Lewis' coal contract does not expire until spring, but the miners' chief may start the ball rolling earlier. He has a reopening clause in the mine agreement and may exercise this right after he sees what the CIO and AFL unions get out of their current wage battles.

See Battle on Labor Laws

There is little prospect that Congress will pass labor disputes legislation in the immediate future. Legislation will not be passed at all without a hard-fought battle.

Strong opposition faces President Truman's fact-finding bill from both management and labor. Labor insists that it would hamstring the privilege to strike while management contends that it would nullify its control over costs and destroy its power of direction over properties.

Both viewpoints are due to be aired at length during hearings being held by the Senate education and labor committee and during the hearings scheduled by the House labor committee on the legislation.

It is possible that the rising tide of strikes will spur Congress into passing some kind of legislation in the next few weeks. But without this prodding influence, legislation could not be expected for months. And there is practically no chance that the president's bill will be enacted without substantial modification.

Training Program Muddled

Congressional leaders express fears that the demobilization controversy is endangering enactment of legislation on universal military training and Army-Navy unification.

An influential House member remarked that "if the Army keeps balling demobilization up, I don't know if anything will be enacted". Meanwhile, however, Rep. Andrew May (D) of Kentucky, House military affairs committee chairman, predicts that, barring unforseen developments, his group will report out universal training legislation this month.

"I don't know that the bill will be just what the president requested, but we'll report out something," he said.

The committee has been holding hearings on universal training since November 8, when it heard Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, then supreme Allied commander in Europe. The general, now Army chief of staff, was expected to appear again at the windup of the hearings.

The Senate is awaiting House action before it does anything on compulsory training.

The jet propulsion principle will be put to work on some commercial airline planes before the year is out. However, present plans still are a far cry from the rocket planes of the future.

One airline has ordered 100 new model planes which are to be equipped with conventional air-cooled motors, but are much speedier because of a jet attachment which makes use of the propulsion power of the exhaust gases.

The new ships will cruise at 300 miles per hour and have a top speed of 350. The seating capacity is 40. They will be used on domestic operations up to 1,000 miles.

Eventually some air experts predict that jet propulsion will replace present heavy motors on virtually all types of commercial and combat planes.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TALKING OUT OF TURN

Yesterday I expressed concern about the classroom where children, though not behaving maliciously, fail to exercise consideration for other persons there. I reported some classrooms I have seen in which children are highly stimulated with interesting things to do but not exercised enough in self-control "to come to attention" with reasonable promptness when the teacher or another pupil is about to impart some information all the class should hear. I deplored the frequency with which children in the classroom vied to talk, several talking simultaneously, the same problem appearing in many homes.

Clearly these problems reveal a lack of self-control and regard for the rights and feelings of others—rudeness to a very high degree. Yet the child short in this direction may not have any of the other traits we usually associate with bad behavior. He may not destroy property and may be honest and truthful.

Self-Reliant and Helpful

He may even be self-reliant, helpful about the home and studious. He may, indeed, be considered, according to the usual standards, as a model child. Nevertheless, he is wanting in likableness and good citizenship.

We parents and teachers should be sensitive to these problems and try harder to prevent or resolve them. At home, let us begin with the baby and train him to learn to wait and, later, not to butt in and interrupt while we are talking face to face or on the telephone to another person.

Suppose you are talking to a friend who has dropped in and your tot, three, not in any desperate need at the time, seeks your immediate attention and, not getting it at once, shouts at you or hits you. He often had done likewise when you were speaking to your husband or wife. Then's the time to work on it. Making sure you never interrupt him in like manner, tell him just once he must wait when you are talking to each other or to anybody else.

Chair Punishment

Then, for each offense, when he does not respond to a mere signal, spank him soundly or assign him to sit in a chair for 20 minutes. If he is older, let the sentence be correspondingly longer.

If he interrupts habitually while you telephone, set aside a few hours when you will talk to an imaginary person on the phone, so you can stop and discipline the youngster in the aforesaid manner.

If your child, eight, wants to do all the talking at the dinner table, put down a clock. Let him talk uninterruptedly for the first three minutes, giving him your undivided attention. After that, require him to wait till all the rest have had an equal time to talk, sending him from the table to finish his meal if he violates this rule, ending this discipline plan once he has learned to let others talk.

Teachers should discipline the child at school for "talking out of turn", and not by mere warning but by assigning the offender to sit doing nothing for a good long while in the back of the room. Also, the teacher should enforce similar penalties on those children who habitually are the last to respond attentively when called from noisy work to silence by a quiet, gentle word from her.

Moreover, children at school should be required to keep their hands down, sit still and be quiet while a classmate is "reciting". Aren't these matters worthy of our consideration?

The World and the Mud Puddles

BROTHERHOOD OF COMMUNISM

An amazing development in our growing industrial muddle appears in a request by the head of an American Labor Union that the Socialistic government of Great Britain intervene in a labor dispute involving American workers and employers. The request, made by the leader of the United Automotive Workers, was predicated on the alleged ownership by the British treasury of a large block of General Motors stock. A British treasury official denies treasury ownership, explaining that General Motors stocks owned by British citizens are being held by the government as custodian, having been listed as British assets in obtaining credits in the United States.

Assuming that Great Britain actually owned stocks in an American corporation, however, it is inconceivable that this nation would tolerate the intervention of the British government in a matter purely domestic in character. For many weeks British ports were tied up by strike of dock workers. In all probability many American investors hold securities of British shipping companies and their interests were directly affected by the prolonged strike. Does anyone think anyone think for a minute that the British would have tolerated any intervention in the strike by our government?

It is rather anomalous that while labor leaders reject proposals of our own government, through the President, to undertake settlement of labor disputes, at the same time condemning his suggestions for remedial strike legislation; that they should call upon the Socialist government of Great Britain to inject itself into the situation here.

British stockholders are entitled as private citizens, whether in this country or some other, to an expression as to the conduct of the corporation. But intervention of a foreign government in a domestic labor dispute would set a precedent leading to limitless international turmoil. If the action of the automotive labor leader was intended as a slap at our own government it was misfired.

Illinois Judge Gives New Ruling On Job Priority

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 25.—(INS)—The GI bill of rights notwithstanding, Federal Judge Charles L. Briggle held today that an employer is not required to reinstate a war veteran in his old job if it means transfer, displacement or discharge of a worker of greater seniority.

Judge Briggle made the unprecedented ruling on a declaratory judgment yesterday.

Olin Industries, Inc., parent company of the Western Cartridge Co., requested the ruling with the consent of the American Federation of Labor.

The judgment was asked when 5,000 AFL workers at the East Alton, Ill., plant of Western Cartridge walked out on strike beginning last Sept., 24 after four ex-servicemen were given jobs for which non-veterans with higher seniority ratings were available.

Workers returned to their jobs when an agreement to seek the declaratory judgment was reached.

In handing down his decision Judge Briggle said:

"The veteran is not entitled to advance beyond the seniority status he would have attained had he not entered military service but remained at his job."

Use Power Drill To Cut Boy's Ring

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Thirteen-year-old John W. Willis, of Philadelphia, possesses no rare disease, but just the same he managed today to baffle a dozen Quaker City doctors.

The boy was taken to Hahnemann hospital after a steel racer bearing ring refused to come off his finger. For hours the medical men struggled to remove it and finally admitted they were licked.

They sent him to the hospital's engineering department. Two stationary engineers put the finger in a vise and worked on the ring with hacksaws. They broke four blades before giving up.

Next the rescue squad was called in but their files, too, failed. Then the emergency patrol bundled Johnny off to a machine shop. There a machinist with a power drill removed the ring.

"I was scared to death," the relieved Johnny commented.

School Directors Have Convention

County School Directors Hear Discussion Of New Legislation, And Taxes

At their annual convention meeting in the Court House, Thursday, the County School Directors association heard E. A. Quackenbush, of the Department of Public Instruction and P. O. Van Ness, Secretary of the Pennsylvania School Directors association discuss new legislation and the new tax laws which went into effect the first of the year, affecting the fourth class districts.

Philip Cox, of Volant, was re-elected to the County School board, and Harry Reed, of North Beaver township, was also named to the board. George E. Lawrence, of Shenango township, was elected auditor.

Arthur T. Prasse, superintendent of the George Junior Republic, of Grove City, gave a fine address on the work which is being done at the Republic in correcting delinquency tendencies in the youth. The Republic is operated more as a school than a correction institution, and the boys are taught to work, both for themselves and the Republic. He spoke of the need for additional buildings to expand the work of the institution, which is now on a firm footing. He showed some of the articles made by the boys of the Republic.

Miss Hannah Parks, county supervisor of special education, gave an interesting talk on her work with the handicapped children of the county.

Reports of the county educational system were given by County Superintendent John C. Syling, and assistant superintendent Roy F. Conway.

Korean Newspapers Were Misinformed, Russians Contend

LONDON, Jan. 25.—(INS)—An official Russian statement declared today that Korean newspapers in the American controlled zone of that country were victimized by "wrongful and dishonest information" on the Korean decisions reached at the Moscow conference of the big three foreign ministers.

The statement was broadcast Thursday night by the Moscow radio.

This broadcast corrected what were described as "false rumors" and intimated that Russian insistence gained many concessions for the Koreans.

The radio said that the original American proposal on Korea did not call for a provisional Democratic Korean government. It added that the U. S. proposal planned a ten-year trusteeship by the big three and China rather than a five-year trusteeship.

Steel Strike Effect Widens

Postwar Prosperity Boom Of Pennsylvania Is Cut Off Sharply By Strikes

(By International News Service)

The postwar prosperity boom in Pennsylvania was cut off sharply today as the steel strike reached out to other industries and caused business to drop as consumers tightened their purse strings.

Paralyzing tenacles from the struck steel mills in the state wound themselves around western Pennsylvania coal mines and railroads throwing more than 20,000 employes out of work. Trade fell off, affecting small merchants throughout the state's steel mill town.

Feeling Pinch

Although the strikers outwardly maintained high spirits, inwardly they began to feel the pinch of their idleness, and the Bethlehem Steel company in Bethlehem was reported to have launched a telephone and postal campaign to break their solidarity.

Union leaders reported that about 500 strikers had received letters, postcards and messages urging them to go back to work. The union answered the threat by doubling its picket lines around the works.

Strikes Visit Capitol

A march of 500 veterans on the State Capitol to demand liberalized unemployment grants achieved no tangible result. The veterans were striking members of the United Electrical Workers.

Meanwhile, packinghouse employees throughout the state remained idle. The AFL strikers were expected to return to work tomorrow under government operation. The strike—at first dreaded by the public—apparently has caused no drastic meat shortage to Pennsylvanians, however.

A repetition of the paralyzing transit strike which hit Philadelphia in the fall of 1944 loomed ominously as the state scheduled a meeting with officials to ward it off. The transportation tieup has been set for February 11.

Veterans Present Demands To State

About 500 Former Servicemen In Demonstration Visit To State Capital Thursday

HARRISBURG, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Gov. Edward Martin faced stiff pressure today for a special session of the general assembly in the wake of a veterans' pilgrimage to the State Capitol to demand unemployment compensation for ex G. I.'s serving on picket lines.

More than 500 former servicemen marched on the State House yesterday to enforce demands for increased state aid during the reconversion period. A housing program and a $300 state bonus were called for by the ex-servicemen.

The veterans came from Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Sharon, Erie and New Kensington. John Phillips, of Harrisburg, president of the Pennsylvania Industrial Union Council (CIO) headed the delegation.

The contingent was met on the Capitol Plaza by State Police Commissioner C. M. Wilhelm and conducted to the House of Representatives where they presented the demands to George L. Bloom, secretary to Gov. Edward Martin, and secretary of labor and industry, William H. Chesnut. There was no disorder but Gov. Martin's absence sparked an unsuccessful attempt to arouse support for a move to send a four-member group to his home at Indiantown Gap for a confecence. The veterans returned home after the meeting.

Bloom promised that their demands would receive the governor's attention but insisted that the veterans gave assurances that their mass march had not been inspired by Communists.

A BREAK FOR YOU!

ARMY EXTENDS TIME TO GET YOUR OLD GRADE BACK

Experience during recent months has shown that most men discharged from the wartime Army desire more than 20 days to look around again in civilian life before deciding what they will do. Consequently the War Department has adopted a new regulation extending the period during which you can enlist in the Regular Army and retain the grade you held when discharged.

During the period February 1 through June 30, 1946, you can rejoin the Army within 90 days after honorable discharge and be enlisted in the grade you held when discharged.

This applies to all men physically and mentally qualified, who are now in the Army and those who have been discharged less than 90 days.

THERE'S a good job waiting for you in the new peacetime Regular Army.

It's a steady job, with no uncertainty, no lay-offs. You get good pay and most of it is clear savings. You get family allowances for dependents. And under normal conditions you get a 30-day paid vacation every year.

You have excellent technical training in one or more of 200 skills and trades. And you have every opportunity for advancement to higher grades, with added pay.

A 3-year enlistment enables you to choose the overseas theater to which you wish to go, and also your branch of service, in the Air, Ground or Service Forces.

Most important of all, you can build financial security. The time you have already spent in the Armed Forces counts toward retirement at half pay for life after 20 years' service, or up to three-quarters pay after 30 years' service.

ENLIST NOW AT YOUR NEAREST U. S. ARMY RECRUITING STATION

POST OFFICE BLDG., NEW CASTLE, PA.

Take advantage of the new War Department ruling. If you were discharged less than 90 days ago, get full information about this opportunity from your nearest U. S. Army Recruiting Office. There's no obligation to you in finding out what the Regular Army offers.

Vets Bureau Is Still Expanding

More Are Added To Staff To Care For Increasing Work Among Discharged Men

NEED DOCTORS AND DENTISTS

More people have been added to the staff of the Veterans Bureau office here during the past week, Worrell M. Jones, contact representative, announced today, with the statement that the work at the office is continuing to mount.

There is a great need for doctors, dentists and nurses and with the increases in pay granted by the government in these positions, it is hoped that the staff at the local office will soon be rounded out so that complete service can be given to the veterans of Lawrence county. Any dactor, dentist or nurse interested in this line of work is asked to write to Personnel Department, Veterans Administration, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Volume Of Work

Some idea of the volume of work that is being done by the local office may be gleaned from the number of contacts had during the past two months. In December the local office had 997 interviews with veterans, and this month with a week yet to go, there have been 1,410 interview.

Six of the 19 offices on the second floor of the Lawrence Savings & Trust company building are now occupied, and the rest will be utilized as soon as the staff is completed. There are now seven people on the staff here, additional help having been added in the registration and contact department.

Rescind Order To Close Hospital At Atlantic City, N. J.

ATLANTIC CITY, Jan. 25—(INS)—The doors of the Thomas M. England general hospital remained open today to receive disabled American servicemen.

It was revealed today that the War department has rescinded an earlier order for the institution, largest amputee center in the nation, to close by March 31.

New orders, announced by Col. Dean F. Winn, hospital commandant, declared that the institution will remain open "indefinitely."

He refused to reveal any new date for the hospital to close down, but unofficial sources reported it would not be before October 1.

1 tablespoon cinnamon
⅓ cup sugar

Soften yeast in lukewarm water. Scald milk and add shortening, ½ cup sugar, and salt. Cool to lukewarm. Add 2 cups flour, beating well. Add eggs and softened yeast, beating until smooth. Add flour. Knead until smooth and satiny. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Punch down. Divide into halves. Roll each portion to a long narrow sheet. Brush with melted butter. Mix cinnamon and ⅓ cup sugar. Sprinkle over dough, reserving 2 tablespoonsful. Roll up tightly. Pinch ends together. Place in 2 greased bread pans and let rise until almost tripled in bulk. Sprinkle sugar-cinnamon mixture over top of each loaf. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 45 to 50 minutes.

Only Four Leave For Induction By Two City Boards

Most Of Eighteen-Year-Olds Enlist In Preferable Branch Of Service Before Call

City Boards One and Two of the Selective Service system were confronted by an unusual circumstance, when it came to induct selectees this month.

In Local Board Two, which had a smaller call than usual, the call was entirely filled by enlistments, the boys enlisting prior to the date of their call in the branch of service they had a preference for.

Local Board Two sent four men away out of their call of six, the other two having enlisted prior to the date of their call.

Those who left this week, were:

Murel D. Cooper, 721 County Line street.

Edwin M. McQuiston, [illegible] East Moody avenue.

Robert I. Curry, 201 North Jefferson street.

Harold W. Pears, 502 Bell avenue.

John James Sutton, of 217 East Wallace avenue, and Arthur G. Palmer, Jr., of 203 Mulberry street, enlisted prior to the call.

Only 18-year-old youths are being called at the present time.

County Board Two will induct its group next week.

Ballots Are Mailed For Strike Vote Of Trainmen, Engineers

CLEVELAND, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Ballots were to be mailed from Cleveland today for the strike vote of 300,000 members of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and Locomotive Engineers in the nation.

The strike vote, to be taken throughout the various railroad systems, has been ordered by the two brotherhoods in protest against the refusal of the National Mediation board to arbitrate a program of new rules as well as wage increases for the railroad employes.

Before a strike can be called, however, there will be a "cooling-off" period of around 60 days. The Mediation board must be allowed 30 days in which to make a report on the dispute and another 30 days must go by after the report is made before a walkout can begin.

President A. F. Whitney of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, who anounced the strike vote in Cleveland yesterday, said that it will take approximately two weeks to complete the ballot. Whitney emphasized his belief that the vote may lead to a settlement of the dispute, rather than to a strike which would paralyze the nation's vast railroad systems.

AROUND CITY HALL

J. K. Heess, city chemist, is one of the most important of City Hall employes according to Safety and Health Director D. O. Davies, who after the chemist had presented his 1945 report to Council recently, stated: "Mr. Heess is doing very good work. He is constant in his endeavor to protect the public's health through inspections and examinations."

The report showed: 312 tests of City of New Castle company water for presence or absence of bacteria colt, number of bacteria, the PH value and residual chlorine present; 142 examinations of bathing pool water; and tested 41 samples taken from wells and springs owned privately; eight inspections were made of dairies to detrmine bacteria in raw and the pasteurized milk and butterfat; 502 inspections for city and eating and drinking places; and 160 chemical tests on sanitary solutions in order to determine if they were of proper strength.

The health chemist also reported that the city licensed 129 eating and drinking places during 1945. Of these 108 were given regular licenses and 21 were granted provisional licenses. Corrections were ordered in 112 places. Mrs. Heess reported that in all there were 2,750 bacteriological determinations made last year.

Babson Gives Attention To "Little Investors"

By ROGER W. BABSON

(Copyright, 1946, Publishers Financial Bureau Inc.)

NEW YORK CITY, Jan. 25.—For the first time in some years I find that the "big boys" of New York are bearish. They believe that stocks are too high and that the market has gone up too fast. This especially applies to those conservative bankers and brokers who are responsible for the funds of colleges, hospitals, trusts and large estates. They are mostly out of stocks and are very long of government bonds.

BABSON

Will the "Big Boys" Be Fooled?

I also learn that many men have even sold stocks in their own companies believing that the prices are too high. They assume that the new purchasers of these stocks are speculators who will throw these stocks overboard when the next crash comes. The big boys then hope to buy these same stocks back again at 20 cents on the dollar as they have in the past. Now, will they be able to do so? Well, this question is the subject of my this week's column.

Stock market conditions are certainly very different today than in 1929. They people have much more money; there are fewer securities to buy; banks are paying almost no interest on deposits; bonds yield very little; stocks are a good inflation hedge, and the S. E. C. is giving small investors real protection. As a result, most people are no longer buying stocks on margin on borrowed money, but are paying for their shares outright and putting them in safe deposit boxes.

1946 Investors Unlike Those of 1929

Experience shows that when stocks get into safe deposit boxes it is hard to get them out. So long as stocks pay a dividend investors quickly forget prices paid or even fail to look at current prices. Even some of the big investment trusts now ignore market prices so long as dividends are paid. The "open end" trusts especially want a good income. This they can get only by holding stocks. Surely, small investors are much wiser today then they were in 1928-1932.

What Of the Future?

This change of ownership has great social and economic possibilities. It may mean that the control of American corporations is changing from the rich men of the country to ordinary people like you and me. Of course the tax situation is helping to bring about this change by penalizing the rich in favor of John Q. Public. If labor would get busy and quietly buy up shares of corporations, they could attain their goals far quicker than by their present silly strikes. This means we should not sell stocks for fear of labor troubles. Strikes merely delay prosperity; they do not destroy it.

Instead of yelling "Help the small businessman" if each of these little fellows would buy a few shares of stock in the big companies, they could easily control these companies which they now fear. Well, think this over also! Some day a powerful leader may arise who will get all these small investors together and throw out some of the present managements. They would need no legislation to do this. It is rumored that John L. Lewis has been pondering over this opportunity. One thing is certain. Before you or I sell stocks just because they are "high", we should carefully consider what we will do with our money when we do sell. Also, we should remember that it is purchasing power which we really want. Hence, idle bank accounts do not look so good. Let "little investors" consider this.

Colonial Home For Governor At Indiantown Gap

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa., Jan. 25—(INS)—A beautiful three-story colonial home on the Indiantown Gap military reservation was ready today for occupancy by Pennsylvania's future governors.

The dwelling, which chief executives may occupy as commander-in-chief of the state's armed forces, was richly decorated with early Pennsylvania-Dutch furnishings.

Members of the Pennsylvania Legislative Correspondents' Association and their wives inspected the mansion yesterday at the invitation of Gov. and Mrs. Edward Martin.

In addition to inspecting the mansion, the party toured the army's separation center and later attended a dinner tendered the governor and Mrs. Martin.

One of the highlights of the tour was the final ceremony in the separation center chapel where dischargees were given an informal talk by a chaplain on what was expected of them in civilian life.

VOTE AGAINST WHITE HOUSE ENLARGEMENT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—(INS)—The House on Thursday tentatively voted to eliminate funds which would provide for an extension to the White House.

The action, approved by a vote of 110 to 41, was part of a Republican drive for economy.

The House approved a proposal that White House operating funds for the fiscal year 1947 be drawn from an appropriation of $1,650,000 previously set aside for enlarging office space at the executive mansion.

The action makes $883,660 available for White House operating funds and requires that the balance of the $1,650,000 appropriation be returned to the treasury.

Nickelodeon Days Features Power Employes' Party

Nickelodeon days, or the period when men who served in World War II were shootin' marbles and flying kites, were revamped by the Pennsylvania Power company Men's club last night in the service building, the affair being attended by more than 100 persons, the adults all being employes of the power firm. Fred Beard is president of the club.

Silent pictures or "flickers" that delighted people three decades ago were flashed on the silver screen. Among the features were prodigies of yesterday's filmdom, some of whom have become stars of the first magnitude and other who have been relegated to the ranks of those forgotten.

However, the pictures brought back vivid memories; likewise did theater "butchers" attired in the gaudy garb of yesteryear who "hustled" boxes of candy containing prizes, peanuts and pop, all of which was much to the liking of the small sons of employes who had an evening not soon to be forgotten.

Enjoyable Affair

The affair was further enlivened by an "old-time" quartet which, after harmonizing old time numbers, brought the audience to its feet by singing some of the 1946 hits.

After the entertainment features the audience devoured hot dogs and consumed coffee and when fathers and sons wended their way homeward at 10 p. m. they were well satisfied with having attended the out-of-ordinary affair.

The service building assembly room had been revamped into a theater auditorium, even to the signs which offered all sorts of inducements to "buys" of articles that were on the market decades ago.

SAVING FAITH

Even though there are many faiths in the world, the Bible speaks of but one and tells us plainly that there is but one. Eph. 4:5. True faith comes by hearing God's word, Rom. 10:17, still many think we should pray for faith. Faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen, Heb. 11:1, still many want to see, hear, or feel something to give them faith. When we see a thing we no longer accept it by faith as it becomes sight. Paul says, "We walk by faith not by sight". 2 Cor. 5:7.

Many teach salvation by faith only. Is faith the only essential to salvation? Is everyone saved by merely having faith? If so there should be at least one scriptural example showing salvation by faith only. Can you point out that example? Ask the preacher that so teaches to show that example? Whether he attempts to do so or not ask him about the scriptures in James 2. "Even so faith, if it hath not works, is dead, being alone. Thou believest that there is one God; thou doest well; the devils also believe and tremble". Will the devils be saved, too? "Ye see then how that by works a man is justified, and not by faith only". Jas. 2:24.

Saving faith is the faith that causes one to obey everything that God commands.

Plans Outlined For Fund Drive To Aid Republic

Rotarians Invite Other Service Clubs Of County To Participate In Campaign

PRESENT PLAN AT LUNCHEON

Plans were outlined for a snappy one-week campaign during the week of February 11, to raise $7,000 as Lawrence county's share of a $100,000 building fund drive for the George Junior Republic at Grove City, at a luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Thursday noon, called by President H. D. Hadsell, of the New Castle Rotary club.

Mr. Hadsell introduced Ross D. Rosenberger, chairman of the campaign, who detailed the plans for the drive. Mr. Rosenberger stated that the New Castle Rotary club, which had undertaken sponsorship of the campaign, felt that in view of the fact that the drive embraced the entire county, and was of such a worthwhile nature, that the club felt that the other service clubs throughout the country should have an opportunity to participate.

Representatives of these clubs were present from Ellwood City, Wampum, Bessemer, and New Wilmington, in addition to the Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, and Wolves clubs of New Castle.

New Castle will be asked to subscibe $4,500 to the total, while the quota assigned Ellwood City is $1,500, and the additional $1,000 will be sought from New Wilmington, Bessemer, and Wampum, Mr. Rosenberger stated.

Another meeting has been called for Monday evening, Feb. 11, at The Castleton, at 8 p. m., when the campaign will be inaugurated, and the final report meeting will take place Monday evening, Feb. 18.

Hear Director Henderson

Dr. E. F. Henderson, past president of New Castle Lions club, who is director of the George Junior Republic spoke of the physical assets of the home at the present time, which consist of two dormitory buildings, a quick-freezing plant large barn, tailor shop, machine shop, laundry, chapel, and school building.

When Supt. Arthur Prasse took over six years ago, the physical equipment was in bad shape, and there were only 12 boys at the Republic. Under the supervision of a plumber and carpenter, he stated, new floors were laid, the plumbing repaired, and the buildings were put in good shape again. Eighteen months ago, an adjoining farm was purchased, adding to the Republic's acreage, and the farmhouse was put in good condition as a dormitory, where 30 additional boys are now housed. The enrollment is now around 250, with equipment only designed to handle 150 boys, so additions are necessary.

There are 600 acres of ground, and virtually all the food supply of the home is raised. There is a herd of dairy cattle, some beef cattle, sheep, hogs and chickens. The meat is preserved until needed at the freezing plant, and under the direction of the matrons at the home, the boys canned between 35,000 and 40,000 jars of fruits and vegetables. These were half-gallon and gallon jars.

In the tailor shop, the boys make their own work clothes, and in the machine shop, they make the necessary repairs on the farm machinery, tractors, and two buses owned by the Republic.

Round Tells of Need

There is also a laundry, which the boys operate, where all the laundry work is done with equipment bought second-handed and put in usable condition by the boys at the home.

The boys at the home come from 25 western Pennsylvania counties and are assigned there by the courts, not as criminals, but where they are given an opportunity to rehabilitate themselves.

L. B. Round, spoke of the great work which is being carried on at the Republic, and of the need for this institution, where boys who have gotten off the beam can have an opportunity to adjust themselves to meet society again.

He explained that the George Junior Republic exists because there is a definite need for it, and that it is doing a wonderful job.

Morgan Barnes, of the Grove City Rotary club, who is a director of the institution, stated that the idea was started in 1895 for these Republics by Mr. George, and that Grove City's Republic came into being in 1909.

Mr. Prasse, who came there from Morganza reformatory, after 14 years of service at that institution spoke of the uphill fight he had to get the Republic on a good foundation again, and backed by a fine board of directors, willing to give the boys a break and a hand, they have succeeded.

Additional room is needed, however, at the present time, hence the campaign which is now being waged for the $100,000 fund.

The average age of the boys there is from 12 to 18 years, he stated. Some of the boys stay only a short time, while others, because they are better off at the Republic than they would be at their own homes, are kept for longer periods. They attend grammar school at the home, and Grove City High schools. When they become ready for college, the boys can borrow from a fund established through the earnings of the boys at the Republic to attend college if they so desire.

Senior High Roll Has 1680 Students

Eight Veterans Are In Class This Semester: Total Enrollment Has Decreased Since Fall

Enrollment at New Castle Senior High school this semester is 1,680 students, according to Clare B. Book, principal of the school.

This total is a decrease from the enrollment last fall, because of the graduation of 155 seniors this month. No new class has entered because of the elimination of the two-term year, although several new students have been added to the high school roll books.

Eight veterans are among the new students, completing their high school work in order to receive their diplomas. These men are taking regular classes, along with the other students. In addition, some veterans are enrolling in evening classes in history and English in order to make up their credits more rapidly.

SPECIAL SATURDAY CLOTHING COLLECTION

Saturday afternoon, beginning at 1 o'clock, volunteer workers and trucks will make a house-to-house canvass to pick up bundles of clothing for the Victory Clothing Collection. . . . If you neglected to hunt through your clothes closets and other storage places for seldom-used items because of inconvenience of delivering them to headquarters, this is your opportunity. What you can spare, the needy of the world can wear. Put your bundle at a conspicuous spot in front of your home, so that it won't be missed by the collecting trucks.

WHAT YOU CAN DO

1. Tie shoes together so pairs won't be separated. Pack clothes in a bundle or box so they can be easily handled.
2. This is an easy way to make your contribution. Just place them at a conspicuous place in front of your home. The house to house collection will pick them up Saturday.
3. Volunter some spare time to your local committee. Telephone 6546. Extra help is needed.

NOTICE TO TRUCKERS AND WORKERS

Trucks are to report to Frank Sargent at 1 P. M. for instruction and helpers at the rear of the Pennsylvania Power Company service building, 401 S. Jefferson St.

Scouts, members of the service clubs, high school boys and other volunteers report to W. G. Morgan at the same place and time for assignments.

Congress To Have Hearings On Tax Adjustment Cases

Hearings Are Called When Corporations Complain That Refunds Come Too Slowly

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—INS)—Sen. George (D) Ga., announced Thursday that congressional hearings will open February 5 to probe the administration of the tax law dealing with adjustment of corporation excess profit tax credits in abnormal cases.

George, who is chairman of the joint committee on internal revenue taxation, simultaneously released a report from the internal revenue bureau on its administration on this program—Section 722 of the tax law.

The hearings will be held before the joint committee on postwar taxation.

Want Refunds Faster

George, it was learned, called for the information, and decided to begin hearings, because of complaints from business that tax refunds under the sections were being handled too slowly by the internal revenue bureau.

The bureau, in its report, revealed that claims for refunds under Section 722 already amount to $3,700,000,000, and will amount to $8,000,000,000 by 1949.

The claims arrived from the tax law provision which specified that refund shall be made where it determines that the 1936-39 "base period" for determining normal corporation profits actually was "abnormal" in particular cases.

General Spaatz For Unification

Newely Named Air Forces Commander For United Command Of Armed Services

CHESTER, Pa., Jan. 25.—(INS)—General Carl A. Spaatz, newly named commander of the U. S. Army Air Forces, declared himself in favor today of unification of the armed services.

In Chester to receive an honorary degree as doctor of aeronautical science from Pennsylvania Military academy, General Spaatz declared he intended to "emphasize that I am for unification of the services under a single command."

He revealed he has a program mapped out for the Army Air Forces which includes:

A peacetime military air strength of 400,000 men and 6000 planes.

A "West Point of the air" for which plans have already been drawn and for which congressional approval will be sought.

Augmentary training of air force personnel through ROTC groups in a number of large colleges.

Active and strong participation by this country's air forces in UNO air policing of the world to maintain the peace.

Spaatz insisted that "air power has shown that the only way to prevent war is to stop it before it starts."

"And air power," he said, "gives peace-loving countries the weapons to do just that. For the first time in history, it is possible to destroy an enemy which does no fighting."

His appointment to succeed General Henry Arnold as commander of the air forces apparently removed Spaatz from the Pennsylvania political picture. He has been mentioned prominently as a potential Democratic gubernatorial candidate.

WANT A CANNON

Farming Field Is Undergoing Change

Pennsylvania Farmers Look Forward To Era Of Agricultural Abundance

HARRISBURG, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Pennsylvania farmers looked forward today to an era of agricultural abundance forecast during the 30th annual farm show at Harrisburg.

"The entire field of farming is undergoing the biggest change in 150 years," State Secretary of Agriculture Miles Horst told delegates during the closing session last night. "You are helping to set the pace in this change."

He spoke at a banquet of the Cooperative Potato Growers' Association.

Rapid development will be implemented by scientific research, Horst declared. He predicted that the 1947 show would reflect many improvements.

Exhibits Next Year

Next year's meeting was expected to feature colorful exhibits of produce, livestock and equipment curtailed by the war. The carnival atmosphere was expected to double the attendance of 5000 farmers who attended the 1946 show.

Horst emphasized farmers must improve the quality of their produce "to get farming on a high basis of efficiency so that production costs can be dropped to fit the size of the consumer's purse."

Farmers were warned that important health and social problems must be solved to improve rural communities.

Dr. William G. Mather, rural sociologist of Pennsylvania State college, pointed out that the rejection of farm draftees by selective service was proportionately higher than that of urbanites. Similarly, the death rate for children was higher in the country than in the city, he added.

He warned that increased land purchases by "migrant, irresponsible tenant families" could result in the replacement of "our permanent, community-supporting owner families."

Extortion Suspect Found To Be AWOL

Pittsburgh Police Say Reynard Chelkis Admits Being AWOL Private

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Suave Reynard Chelkis, who confessed he attempted to "shakedown" Mrs. Marion Gianno, widow of a Pittsburgh slain numbers racketeer today admitted he was an AWOL army private, police reported.

Chelkis and his wife, Evelyn, 29, of Wilkinsburg, were arrested Wednesday in a Pittsburgh hotel after walking into a carefully laid police trap.

Police said Chelkis called the slain racketeer's wife five times and told her he knew her husband's killer and that he possessed the gun used in the murder.

Following several hours of questioning by homicide detectives Chelkis admitted he had forged the army papers which promoted him to the rank of captain, adding: "I'm only a first class private."

Chelkis took full responsibility for the alleged "shakedown" plot. He told FBI agents, army officials, and the police that his wife had no knowledge of his intentions and asked that she be permitted to go home and take care of their child.

Meanwhile, FBI agents continued their search for the sender of a threatening letter to Mrs. Gianni.

Gus Gianni, the slain racketeer was found sprawling on the sidewalk near his home with three bullets in his body.

SALARIES UPPED 5 PER CENT

By action of the salary board, all salaries and wages of appointed employes in the court house are raised five per cent for the current year. The commissioners and county treasurer constitute the salary board and each departmental head sits in as a member when his department is under consideration.

The five per cent is not given to each individual employe. Instead the departmental heads are given the five per cent to distribute as they see fit. Some will pro rate it among all employes, others will distribute it differently.

The increase means about $601.75 increase per month or about $7220 per year.

OPINIONS HANDED DOWN

Two opinions came down from the court Thursday morning, one each from Judges W Walter Braham and John G. Lamoree.

Judge Braham handed down an opinion and order refusing the petition of C. F. Keitzer to change his plea of guilty of involuntary manslaughter to not guilty in the killing of Mrs. Minnie Dean on the Harlansburg road on November 20 1945.

Mrs. Dean was killed when the car of Keitzer hit the Dean car, killing Mrs. Dean. Keitzer came into court and pleaded guilty to involuntary manslaughter but before he could be sentenced asked permission to change his plea to not guilty. He said he had made the plea without benefit of legal counsel and now felt there was a doubt as to whether or not he would be found guilty.

"The matter is for the conscience of the court," said Judge Braham. Judge Braham said he could find no valid reason for the change of plea and refused the petition. Keitzer will now be sentenced and is then in shape to appeal the sentence if he so desires.

Judge Lamoree handed down an opinion and order refusing the petition of the school district of Neshannock township for more specified information in the case of Thomas G. McComb against the district. Mr. McComb claims he had a three-year contract to haul the students of the township to and from school and that the school director later cancelled the contract. He asks $3735 damages.

SOUNDS LIKE WAR PLANT

The basement under the commissioners' office sounds like a small war plant just now. Five machines for making address plates are going and as each letter is stamped into the metal it sounds like a hammer. Sixty thousand of the plates must be made, for use later in sending out tax notices.

Nurse Aides Corps Program Is Terminated

Red Cross Committee Honors All Aides With Program Thursday Evening

With a splendid record of having served 62,000 hours in Lawrence county, the Red Cross Nurse Aides Corps was terminated Thursday evening, following their organization in October 1941.

The Red Cross committee, in appreciation for the untiring volunteer service, were hosts at an informal party last evening in the New Castle hospital, at which time Red Cross nurse aides from both the Jameson Memorial and New Castle hospital were honored.

Approximately 100 were in attendance, and the program was opened by Mrs. John Elliott, chairman of volunteer service, extending greetings and welcome. America was sung by the assembly.

Presents Certificates

J. Glenn Berry, chairman of the Red Cross board, was introduced and presented to Mrs. Hilda Carlson and Mrs. Cloe Young certificates from national headquarters for their outstanding service records of 2000 volunteer hours or over. Although only two received these certificates, many nurse aides have over 1000 hours and many near the 1000 service hour record. They responded graciously.

Since organizing in 1941, there have been six nurse aides classes enrolled in the New Castle hospital and five classes at the Jameson Memorial hospital. During the war years, the nurse aides corps has accomplished much, offering their service in time of need. The groups held individual meetings at their hospitals, and during the course of their training were addressed by many local physicians on medical subjects that would assist them in their nursing duties.

An entertainment was featured at this time, with Louis Pearsall as master of ceremonies, assisted by DeLace Cole. The two entertained the audience with their clever and amusing radings, recitations, impersonations and songs. A magician's act was also on the program of the evening. During the intermission of the varoius acts, Arch Cubbison revived a few of George M. Cohan's memorable tunes, accompanying himself on the piano. He also conducted a brief song contest, the audience participating.

Mrs. Harry Barkby, chairman of the Red Cross Nurse Aides committee, spoke thanking the aides for their cooperation and work, emphasizing that their service did much in helping to win the war.

Make Brief Remarks

Also making brief remarks were members of the committee: Mrs. W. Hayford, Mrs. W. J. Kinnard, Mrs. Coy Shellito, Mrs. E. Bowers, Mrs. S. King, Mrs. Louise Isaac, Mrs. Alice Brunswick, the latter three being instructors of the nurse aides class.

Sister M. Hyacinth spoke in behalf of the New Castle hospital and she stated that although the program was officially over, the hospital would call the aides for any future needs and in any emergency. She also extended thanks.

C. R. Youngquist, administrator of the Jameson Memorial hospital, urged the organization of a Gray Lady corps, and then gave due thanks to the nurse aides. Mrs. C. R. Youngquist was also introduced.

Mrs. Elliott concluded the speakers' program with the thought that all aides can feel compensated for the service with the joy that comes of serving your fellowmen which transcends all material things.

Speaking in behalf of the Nurse Aides Corps was Mrs. J. W. Post who told of the pending departure of Mrs. H. Barkby, committee chairman, who leaves with her family soon for Syracuse, N. Y.

The Star Spangled Banner was sung, closing the program, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Dolan at the piano.

Dainty refreshments were served buffet style by the committee on a beautifully arranged table centered with a bouquet of red carnations and white baby mums, flanked on either side with tall white candles in crystal holders. Pouring were Mrs. J. Elliott and Sister M. Hyacinth.

Many homes lack protection against disease spreading insects and rodents.

New Castle High Battles Ellwood Here Tonight

Schoolboy Fives Ready For First Meeting Of Year

New Castle Hopes To Trip Scrappy Wolverines, Stack-Walls In Final Game

ELLWOOD QUINTET SEEKING REVENGE

New Castle High school basketball team will play the Ellwood City High Wolverines tonight at the Washington High court in a Section Three game that ends the first round. The preliminary game will start at 7 o'clock with the reserve teams playing.

Ellwood City, in the throes of a losing streak following their defeat of the Beaver Falls Tigers in the opening game of Section Three, will try their best tonight to upset the New Castle team for two reasons—first they would like to end their losing streak and second they seek revenge for two defeats 44 to 29 and 45 to 33 handed them last year by the "Red Hurricanes", coached by Phil Bridenbaugh.

Last For Stack-Walls

Tonight New Castle High loses two stars via the graduation route, Philip "Pete" Stack, the tall center, and Bill Walls, the colored speedster guard or forward. Both boys saw action in the New Castle-Ellwood games last year.

Ellwood Rested Up

New Castle has four men who played against Ellwood last year—Al Koszela, Dick Whittaker, Billy Walls and Pete Stack, and for this reason are favorites to win this evening. However the Wolverines have rested all week, being idle, while New Castle has faced Aliquippa and New Brighton this week, winning one and losing to Aliquippa.

Incidentally the Aliquippa Indians—undefeated in five straight sectional battles—ran into an inspired Ambridge High team last night at Ambridge and were defeated, 42 to 30 making the Section Three race a wide-open affair with Ambridge, Sharon, Farrell and the Indians all having a chance to win now.

See Tough Race

Both Sharon and Farrell are tied with four wins and two defeats. Ambridge leads with six and one. Aliquippa has won five and lost one, being a game behind, having postponed the Ellwood game until February 22.

Other Section Three games tonight will take Beaver Falls to New Brighton and Sharon to the spacious Farrell High court, for traditional tussles.

New Kensington Serventi Team Ends Locals' Winning Streak By 38-34 Score

K. Pulaski's good fortunes on the hardwood courts ran out last night as a visiting New Kensington Serventi team snapped their winning streak at the K. P. hall, 38-34.

Trailing by five points with four minutes left to play in the game, the visitors initiated a scoring flurry to take the contest.

Mistal, with 14 points, was the big gun for the winners, while Joey Cooper and Bus Davis carried the Pulaski load for the evening.

Yank Gridders Sign Up Parker

Dan Topping Adds Ace Parker To 1946 Contract Along With Frankie Sinkwich

DeGROOT SIGNS AS LOS ANGELES COACH

NEW YORK, Jan. 25—(INS)—The bitter warfare between the National Football League and the rival All-America conference broke out again in spectacular fashion Monday with the announcement that the New York Yankees of the AAC have signed another outstanding star.

Dan Topping, boss of the Yanks, who is leaving no stone unturned in his battle to take the play away from the rival Giants of the NFL, reported the signing of Ace Parker, once the most valuable player in the National circuit. Parker, now 32, was for years one of the National's outstanding stars and gate attractions.

Ace is the third big game star to be signed by Topping recently. The others were Frank Sinkwich, former Georgia player who deserted the NFL, and Harvey Johnson, stellar fullback from William and Mary.

Angels Sign Coach

The up-and-coming AAC got in a further blow at the NFL when Dud DeGroot, former coach of the Washington Redskins, signed as coach of the Los Angeles eleven of the All-America conference for next season.

The signing of Parker involves several technicalities. Ace was one of Topping's outstanding players when Dan operated the Brooklyn franchise in the NFL. When Dan bolted to the AAC recently, the NFL technically awarded Parker's contract to the Boston club. If you will remember, Topping's NFL club was known as the Boston Yanks, who were merged with the Brooklyn Tigers.

Personal Contract

It seems that Topping, however, already had signed Parker to a personal contract. This contract bound Ace to play wherever Topping fielded a team.

Parker has been in the Navy for nearly four years. He was discharged recently with the rank of lieutenant. He turned down several managerial and coaching offers in baseball and football to jump from the NFL to the AAC and work for Topping, his old boss.

Ace gained a National Football reputation at Duke where he was an All-American. He played for Brooklyn for five years before joining the Navy. He is a fine passer, runner and kicker, and a terrific all-around player. He played a few games with Boston last season after receiving his discharge.

Slippery Rock Hi Trips Union 37-21

Slippery Rock High came to the Union floor last night for a non-league game and walked off with a 37 to 21 victory. The Rockets were ahead 19 to 9 at halftime.

Union's best period was the final one in which they outscored the visitors 11 to 10. Captain Joe Smith was the star in the Union lineup, with Holben and Haseltine best in the Rockets lineup with 24 of the points between them.

In the preliminary game the Union Jayvees defeated Slippery Rock Jayvees 26 to 14.

Tonight Union will play East Brook at Union in a Section 20 battle.

Micky Quack To Box Harry Jeffra

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 25—Although his name might evoke a few laughs, his opponents can vouch for the fact that there is nothing humorous about the way young Micky Quack handles himself inside the ropes of a boxing ring.

Young Quack who hails from Pittsburgh's Southside is slated to meet Harry Jeffra, ex-featherweight king, in one of the ten round bouts on next Monday's All-Star card at the Gardens. Quack has won 15 of his last 16 bouts.

VARIETY FIVE WINS

Paced by Tanner, Hanna, and Buly, the Variety Five defeated the Blue Eagles in a House league game at the "Y" last night 46 to 13.

IN SPORTS' LAND

ONE of the biggest events in beagle dogdom is being sought by the Shenango Valley Beagle club of which W. G. Strouse is president and Robert J. Morrow is secretary, not forgetting, of course, the w. k. Art McGuirk, who as a member of the organization usually supplies the info to the public. Today he reported that the club through the proper officers have applied to the AKC or American Kennel club, for sanction to hold a licensed trial in the coming fall at their new training area which recently was leased by the club. The area is a 375-acre plot located on the Pulaski-Harbor road, approximtaely six miles from the city. Authority for the application was voted at the club's meeting, conducted in the Y, here. Among the other topics discussed the proposed purchase or construction of new kennels on the leased property, a derby trial in March, the annual banquet in early February and a new committee for 1946. During the meeting President Strouse introduced Lawrence County's new game protector, William Overtuff. His remarks were confined to the possibility of more rabbits here. It was also decided to hold a fox hunt on the newly-acquired training area Sunday morning in which all sportsmen are welcome to participate.

Announcement that the Federation of Sportsmen have arranged for a trout fly-fishing Spring Creek project was welcome by fly fishermen of Lawrence County. Those in favor of the project should present their contribution to the county's representative of the federation which is bearing the cost. No live bait will be permitted. . . . Chauncey Davis quizzed Here & There yesterday regarding the fight which drew the most persons and we replied Dempsey-Tunney at Chicago, which was wrong. The biggest financial gate was attracted there but Chauncey said 136,000 fans were attracted by Tony Zale when he fought near Milwaukee and this fight set a new record. . . . Chauncey knew his gloves in younger days.

Garfield Davis and Lou Mather were quite proficient with boxing gloves in their earlier days. In fact, Mather once boxed Billy Bevan, a topnotch bantam, in a privately staged affair. Here & There managed Bevan at the time. . . . Billy Conn proposes to hire two rough heavyweights to mix with him in private fights to act as tune-ups for his joust with Champion Joe Louis which is not a bad plan. . . . Joe Ritchie of Canyon street who formerly instructed preliminary fighters how to heave punches in now heaving coal for Chet Sweezy who never lost a verbal agrument.

Jimmy Brice, the First ward "court" played baseball with St. Bonaventure and was instrumental in getting the Castle Cords, a locally famed team of years ago to hire Infielder McGarvey, who unfortunately, fractured an ankle during play. . . . Minooka is where E-Yak Jennings came from, likewise other topnotch baseballers. . . . Time was when Miz Dart and his cohorts hand-balled at the Y. In the eastern section of the state it was not difficulty whatsoever to games played with fancy-figure sidebets. . . . One of the best methods of sharpening an eye is hand-ball, or bouncing a rubber ball upon a hard floor and smacking it, without a miss, on the re-bounce. Amateur boxers might try this out.

Herb Samuels who once was the manager of the Barbers baseball team and who fishes and hunts and also Jack Gerson, businessman and fisherman, with Alderman J. C. Kennedy, Third war, are handling the tickets for the Old-Time Sportsmen's banquet. . . . Tommy Leach who wore the title, "Masked Marvel", in the billiard game several years ago will demonstrate shots, both orthodox and trick, to wounded veterans at Deshon hospital, February 4, according to Andy Dodds. . . . Reporting yesterday that John McKibben was 64 years old Here & There hit a typewriter "9" instead of an "8". John served with the 28th Division, not the 29th, in World War I, as reported.

Hollywood Bears, pro' football team went through the season with an upset win over a service all-star eleven that included Buddy Young. The pros' kept Buddy in check. He gained only 16 yards in carrying the ball five times. . . . Chicago Cubs have hired a Dollar. His first name is Joe and he will be assistant trainer. . . . Torchy Peden, Mr. Bicycle in the six-day event, believes the report will be revived this year. . . . When hockey games are held in Chicago, fish, cabbage and whatnot, even marbles are tossed. All excepting the marbles can be cleaned off the ice but the marbles freeze into the ice inviting injury to players.

That 'oughta' be a real party Wednesday night when World War II soldiers honorably discharged and those home on furlough get together at The Arena. . . . Hugh Mulcahy, Philadelphia Phils, is back from four years service in the army determined to take his regular starting place on the mound. . . . A two days clinic for Ohio's high school grid coaches under the direction of Paul Brown, Cleveland Browns of the All-America conference, will be held May 3 and 4, at Cleveland.

Legion Post To Back League Team

Team Composed Entirely Of Veterans Will Be Entered In County League

At their recent meeting, Perry S. Gaston Post American Legion voted to back a team composed entirely of veterans, in the county league during the coming season.

The American Legion's junior team, composed of the pick of the Junior League, made the rest of the league step pretty fast to keep them from winning the pennant in the second half.

The post plans to sponsor Junior Baseball as they have in the past, and a fine league of youngsters is expected to be seen in action again this year.

PIRATES ANNOUNCE

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 25—(INS)—The Pittsburgh Pirates today announced they had received the signed contracts of three more players to add to an already swollen roster for the 1946 season.

The latest to be signed were Southpaw Kenneth Heintzelman, recruit infielder Pete Castiglone and "Rookie" Eddie St. Claire, who originally was a pitcher but was sent into the outfield because of his hitting ability.

Two former Penn State track heroes, Barney Ewell and Norm Gordon, both plan indoor competition this winter.

Popular Boxers On Fight Docket

Fans Hope To Get Eyeful Of Action When Gibbons, Newkirk, Maloney, Pander Battle

Although Bobby Timpson and Harry Madison, lightweights, are accredited as the feature amateur boxers on Monday's Evening Evenin' in The Arena, the fact remains that there others docketed for action in three-rounders who will draw as much attention as either Bobby or Madison.

Two of them are Jimmy or Chuck Gibbons of Ellwood City and Benny Newkirk of New Castle. Newkirk battered Gibbons in his first go but Gibbons trained for his second fight and he stopped squatty Young Bruno of New Kensington at 140 pounds in the third round.

Believing that Gibbons was ripe for better foes the Jefferson A. C. contacted Merritt Book, Ellwood City trainer and Book agreed, in behalf of Gibbons to box Joe York of Youngstown here Monday night. York is more seasoned than Bruno, hence a hot battle is anticipated.

Finally Tabs Murray

Newkirk took on Regis Murray of New Kensington, an Astraire-type 140-pounder in his second go. None of Murray's skipping bothered Benny who went methodically after Regis and finally he was tabbed for a 10 seconds sleep. Whether Benny can keep step and punch with Lallo Berizo, Youngstown, a rugged kid, is a question.

Jimmy Maloney, who like Gibbons, may be termed "a chip off the old block" both their fathers having been boxers decades ago, has been matched to box Tony Fair of Youngstown and loyal to their protege, Ellwood City fans will cheer him on equally as much as they will Gibbons.

Bud Pander, a New Castle junior lightweight will receive his boxing baptism in a bout with Nelson Taylor, Youngstown, while Cisco Kid, a clownish like middleweight will box the good Joe Wolfe of Pittsburgh at 160. In all there will be eight bouts the first of which will start at 8:30 p. m., Monday.

Balanced Coats
FOR BOYS OF ALL AGES
It's a neat trick if you can do it—a skillful balancing act like the one above. Yet it's no more skillful than the job we've done on their coats. We've built them to balance on sturdy shoulders so they feel practically weightless. And there's plenty of warmth in these rugged styles.

Florence Brisbin Returning To Africa

Miss Florence Brisbin of 835 Lathrop street, missionary to West Africa under the Assemblies of God Board for the past 15 years, is planning to resume her mission work on that continent very shortly.

At present, Miss Brisbin is awaiting the arrival in New Castle of her co-worker, Miss Clara Lewis, of Chicago, who will return to the field with her. The couple will continue on their journey to New York where they will receive necessary medical precautions before entering Africa.

Recently Miss Brisbin had her wrist watch specially plated to make it weather proof in the extreme damp climate of Africa but in some manner in the downtown area of the city, lost the watch, being a severe loss to her due to the extra precautions she had taken to prepare it for the African weather. She is hoping it will be returned to her before she returns to the field.

PIGEON TROUBLES

ERIE, Pa.—(INS)—The "trapper" engaged to rid the Erie courthouse of the pigeons left it up to the county commissioners how to entice the birds into his trap at night. "Your birds eat in the park and only use the courthouse eaves to roost at night," he said. "How am I going to catch them when they're gone at day and sleep all night?"

LEGAL NOTICES

Legal Notice

The undersigned City Clerk of the City of New Castle will receive proposals until Monday, February 4, 1946, at 10:00 a.m. for the furnishing to the City of New Castle of insurance as follows, to-wit:

Public Liability Insurance to indemnify the City of New Castle against all damage which the City may have to pay for or on account of injuries suffered by any person or persons because of the failure or neglect of the City of New Castle to perform any duty which it owes to the public in regard to any streets, parks, buildings, lands, public places or other property (except automobiles) owned by or under the control of the said City.

Second: Public Liability Insurance to indemnify the City of New Castle against all damage which the City may have to pay for or on account of injuries suffered by any person or persons because of the failure or neglect of the City of New Castle to perform any duty which it owes to the public in regard to any automobile, motor vehicle, or other vehicle owned by or under the control of the said City.

Bids may be submitted and proposals made for the furnishing of each of the said kinds of public Liability Insurance, either to persons or property or for both, or for furnishing of both kinds of Public Liability Insurance against loss, either to persons or property or for both. All policies of insurance to be furnished must be on standard forms approved by the Department of Insurance of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and those insuring against personal injuries shall be for the limits of Ten and Twenty-five Thousand Dollars, and those for property damage shall be for damages to the amount of Five Thousand Dollars.

All policies shall indemnify the City against the payment of any damages and also against the cost and expense of defending suits for such damages.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a specimen copy of the proposed policy, and when a contract is let, the policy furnished must comply exactly and precisely with the specimen accompanying the bid.

The Council reserves the right to reject any or all bids, and in determining what proposals shall be accepted if any, the Council shall consider the rate of premium, the form of policy, the coverage of the policy, and all other things in the proposals, which may affect the welfare of the said City. Proposals may be made for insurance for one, two or three years, and in awarding any contract, the Council may determine the length of time for which the policies proposed shall be accepted according to the judgment of the Council as to what is the lowest and best bid for insurance of the City.

All such proposals should be in writing and sealed, and should be marked plainly on the outside thereof of what is proposed therein, without disclosing the terms of the proposal, and they shall be open at a meeting of the Council of the City of New Castle at 10:00 a.m. Monday, February 4, 1946.

Is Bride's First Husband Alive Or Not, She Wonders

Friends Identify Serviceman But Bride Of 19 Days Is Skeptical

ST. JOCEPH, Mich., Jan. 25.—(INS)—The dreams which used to haunt Linda O'Signac but faded with time, today were vivid again.

She said:

"I hope he walks in the door. I used to dream of such a thing."

Mrs. Langston-O'Signac, a bride of 19 days, spoke of her first husband, who reportedly spent last weekend with friends in his home town of Newark, Ark., although an official navy report stated he was killed in action on Iwo Island last March 7.

The "phantom" is or was Pfc. William Langston, 28.

Friends Identify "Bill"

Friends in Newark positively identified the man who visited there last Sunday and Monday as "Bill." His left foot was amputated and he walked with the aid of crutches, and both hands had been mutilated, by the Japs, he said.

He reportedly told his friends that he had only been in the United States 10 days, and had not been able to get his discharge because his only service papers was his "death certificate."

Friends who knew Langston as a young man in Newark, positively identified the ex-marine. A. C. Crownover, a close friend of Langston, and the marines host, declared there could be no mistake. Crownover said he asked the man if his parents knew he was alive, and the man answered.

Waits For Navy Department

"No, it would be too much of a shock for them. I am waiting for the navy department to break the news."

Monday morning he talked with friends in a Newark tavern, then disappeared.

His parents, divorced and both remarried, and his sister, went to Newark on hearing the news.

From the description given them by friends, they too positively identified the man as "Bill."

But in St. Joseph, Linda, who was married 19 days ago to former Marine Cpl. Joseph O'Signac, who was wounded in the invasion of Tarawa, wondered. She was a bit skeptical of the "positive" identifications. She said:

Linda Is Skeptical

"He hadn't been there for 11 years, except for one week in 1937 or '38."

Linda said:

"The navy department sent me not only official notice of his death, but his personal effects. These included in onyx and diamond ring which bore his initials. I gave it to him when he entered service, and I know he wouldn't have parted with it."

If Langston is alive, she will go back to him, she said. He is the father of her 8-year-old son, Duane.

Licensed Prostitution Is Banned In Japan

TOKYO, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Allied occupation headquarters issued an order today banning licensed prostitution in Japan.

The Japanese government was directed to annul all laws permitting prostitution.

Col. Crawford Sams, chief of the headquarters public health section, said the order was aimed at abolishment of the age-old Japanese system whereby girls of poor families were sold into slavery and kept in debt by unscrupulous managers.

Houses of prostitution were previously declared "off limits" for occupation troops.
